

Scottish Festival 2019

We made it! The temp was around 98 and the humidity level was unbelievable. Thanks to these brave souls we made it through the day: Betsy, Jo Ann, Jane, Barbara, Sheri, Doris, and Loris.

Bugs love Loris; see the photo on the left. Look Park encompasses 150 acres and this thing was found crawling on Loris within the first 20 minutes. Jane rescued it by putting it on this tree. Yikes!!

We tried a new item this year-wristlet key fob; do not think we sold any.

It was not Christmas but this was the greeting on the basket holding the handwoven cards. It did garner attention.

Almost lavender sachet holders, they were waiting lace and ribbon, added before they were taken to the Festival-we did sell a few of these.

There was weaving. This year we had many adults try there hand at weaving and not as many youngsters.

High level discussion amongst the group!

And more discussion!!

Where is Loris-she was weaving!!

This year we had the addition of a trio playing for about one hour just outside of the pavilion.
